Two bids had been received by the board for the butane supplies: Blossman Gas Co., Bay St. Louis at 16¢ per gallon bid price and American Oil, (Gulf Oil Co.), Piquette at 11¢ per gallon bid price. However, Davis of Pearlman moved that the Blossman bid be

Bay St. Louis Clean-Up Program Off To Good Start

In response to an open invitation extended by Mayor Warren Carver, a representative group of civic minded residents met in the City Hall with the newly organized "Operation Clean Town" to discuss ways and means whereby Bay St. Louis can be made a more desirable place in which to live and conduct business.

Discussions centered around the importance of getting streets improved, vacant lots cleaned, beach-front areas cleaned and beautified, and a general up-grading of the appearance of property privately owned as well as business establishments. The city has been divided into areas of North Beach, South Beach, Dunbar Avenue, Highway 90, and Business District and chairmen have accepted the responsibility of naming committees and getting the work underway with all possible speed.

Many business leaders have already demonstrated their willingness to co-operate in Bay St. Louis all-out effort to "Clean up, Paint up, Fix up and Up-Grade" and they include such establishments as Hancock Bank, Star Theatre, Casanova's Auto Supply, the Masonic Lodge, Joyce's Candy Shop, Louise's Candy Shop, A. & J. Food, Monti-Carver Plumbing,

Mayor Carver assured the group that city facilities would be made available upon request for the removal of trash. There is at present no regular trash-collection day.

Supervisors Plan New Redistricting

A plan for redistricting Hancock County beats was filed in the U.S. District Court at Biloxi, July 30, by the Board of Supervisors.

The proposed plan consists of population by beats as follows: Beat one, 3147; Beat two, 3159; Beat three, 3701; Beat four, 3594 and Beat five, 3706. Each beat under the proposed plan encompasses the population of the rural area.

If the plan is accepted by the court, voting would be on a county-wide basis rather than by beats. In addition a new voter registration would be required.

In formulating the plan the supervisors said they took into consideration the systems of roads and bridges in the county and endeavored to equalize roads and bridges in the beats as well as staying within the population figures believed consistent with decisions of U.S. courts regarding redistricting matters.

They also endeavored to formulate a plan which would result in members of school boards in the county being "totally representative" of the people.

The Board of Supervisors accepted an easement from Waveland Enterprises, Inc.,

covering an area to be used as a spoil area at Bayou Caddy.

Myra Monti Hirsutus was appointed Deputy Tax Assessor, effective August 1, replacing Linda Tommasich, resigned.

The real and personal property assessment rolls of Hancock County for the year 1969 having been equalized according to law the Board of Supervisors will remain in session from day to day until all objections lawfully filed shall have been disposed of.

Gulf Central-Stennis Field Airport Name Is Approved

The new jet-age airport in Hancock County has been named.

To be known as the Gulf Central - Stennis Field, the facility was named for both its location and in honor of its Senator, The Hon. John Stennis.

To be dedicated later this year the facility lacks only completion of its access road, installation of fuel facilities, and construction of aircraft hangar. All are to be finished in the near future.

Recommendation of the name was made earlier this month by the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission but it was not confirmed until approved this week by both Sen. Stennis and the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

County Representatives Give Washington Report

Hancock County's industrial representatives have returned after a brief but busy session with members of Mississippi's Congressional delegation in Washington, D. C. Led by Russell Elliott, president, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, others in the group were, Alton Kellar, supervisor, Beat 2, Hancock County; John Scaffide, member, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission; C. H. Hill, director; and Haskell Wyle, member, Hancock County Industrial Advisory Committee.

Primarily concerned with trying for federal funds to assist in completion of the county's industrial and recreational park developments, the group also sought Washington help in having the National Aeronautics and Space Administration utilize its Mississippi Test Facility in areas other than space rocket booster component testing. This, to prevent the loss of payroll through personnel phase-out.

After a session with Senator John Stennis, who assigned Bill Spell and W. E. Cresswell, both administrative assistants, to help smooth the way through the complexities of the capitol, the group met with Congressman William Colmer, who promptly assigned Trent Lott, his administrative assistant, to the team. Senator James O. Eastland was out of town during the first day of the visit but, in keeping with the importance of the occasion, he signed a letter of support for the group's efforts.

chief, and Gen. Frank Bogart, deputy associate administrator, management, Manned Space Flight, NASA, both of Washington, next received the Hancock team.

Working from prepared material the Hancock men told their story of how a county which spared no effort to accommodate NASA now needed a hand from that governmental agency. They told of the children, the bonds issued to cover the building costs; the uprooted streets, for NASA demanded sewer and water systems; the jet-age airport, built at NASA insistence; the empty apartments, houses, and stores, all brought about by NASA statements of "prosperity ahead! Then they told of lay-offs, a constantly declining "permanent" operating force, and the lack of plans for the future of MTF.

MEETING CANCELLED
St. Clare's Parish Council meeting will not be held this month.

Date for the September meeting will be announced later.

OUR OPINION

EVERYONE DO YOUR SHARE CLEANUP BAY ST. LOUIS

Now that the new administration for the city of Bay St. Louis has been in office long enough to get the feel of things, a much needed program has begun to unfold. "Operation Clean Town" has been formed by interested citizens of our community.

The program has the full backing of Mayor Warren Carver, William M. Frisbie, and Andre Arneaux, commissioners and many concerned people. The basic problems of Bay St. Louis is centered around getting our streets paved, water, sewer cleaned, beach-front property cleaned and beautified, and a general up-grading the appearance of both private and business property.

Bay St. Louis is to attract new people to the community a program of this nature is the first step. It is human nature for people to want things of beauty - This is not asking for the impossible.

Many communities around the state and surrounding states have taken this vital step forward for the good of all the people of the community. Let's get behind this program and make Bay St. Louis the most beautiful place to live on the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Again this can't be done overnight - Step by step this can be accomplished. Let's all take a real hard look into what we have now. DO WE WANT THIS? Everyone will have to get into the act. Action speaks better than words.

We urge that each individual take part and show a concerned interest in cleaning up his individual property. First do the things that can be done immediately - then go to the next major task. Just get started, many have already begun - These individuals and business establishments take pride in making these improvements - They know that by doing this they only benefit themselves.

Many dollars in the local economy have been lost forever because of the condition our city appears in the eyes of the motoring traffic. The merchants can't afford to lose business because of this oversight.

Our readers write

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

The "Our Readers Write" columns and Mr. Ed Ortle's advertisement in the July 31st edition of your newspaper make it obligatory on my part to acquaint you and your readers with some of the hidden currents in the Robert B. Clapp vs. Hancock North Central political drama. As a citizen, taxpayer, and a parent whose concern is in seeing that our children receive the BEST in education, I am passing my findings and thoughts on to you.

First of all, I find it extremely difficult to believe that Mr. Ortle has any first-hand knowledge of the "splendid" work done by D. J. Martin, Roland Ladner, or any other instructor at Hancock North Central School. Mr. Ortle seldom appears on the campus except for scattered special events (usually at night) when teachers are present only on a spectators basis. How can he authoritatively comment upon the quality of work he has not observed himself? What criteria does he use? What courses in teaching has he had to form the knowledge he has to form his comments? I found it interesting that Mr. Ortle felt there was no "sensible reason for delaying the appointment" of a b o v e - mentioned "exceptional" men. Yet these same men are rehired possibly to serve under another man, Mr. Clapp, who does not recommend their work either. Just what can be accomplished in such a situation fraught with friction and undercurrents? Is Mr. Ortle really for the GROWTH of the school? Is his interest solely for the CHILDREN? Yet he urges that "we get politics out of the school."

In reference to the emotional status of Mr. Ezell Lee, I feel that any one of us - when we have given our best and succeeded - would be dejected and frustrated when we were given our "pink slip" through animosities of the political underground. My first thought was that Mississippi's loss was Louisiana's gain, for we have lost another good school man. However, a higher salary that will provide a better life for his family and himself will quickly remove this dejection and frustration, for Mr. Lee still has the opportunity to work with students - his original, pleasurable goal. If telling the truth is "low-rating," as Mr. Ortle identifies it, then all thinking citizens should pray that EVERY educator begin engaging in a crusade today to "low-rate" a n y politically-minded administrator who puts SELF-GAIN ahead of the GOOD OF THE CHILDREN.

I find it interesting, too, that another of the county school board members is unable to stand up and be counted. The very one who stated that Austin Kirkland should be removed as principal of Pearlington school as "he could not meet the people" now recommends him as temporary principal at HNC. What if through some legal or political chicanery this "temporary" position is extended through the ensuing school session? Does this temporary hiring suddenly give Austin Kirkland a Magic key to open the door of good rapport to FIVE TIMES the number of people he "couldn't meet" last session? Obviously, this IS the AGE OF MIRACLES!

I agree that Eugene Ladner is a quiet person. What a pity that he didn't remain that quiet throughout his recent kangaroo court! Now people KNOW WHY he talks little. His grammar is a disgrace to himself, his office, and the people he represents. As a supposedly educated man, he sets an example that our students should be encouraged to forget rather than emulate. This same man whom you state knows and has "diligently" studied school operation, administration, and law" is the same man who taught his last year in the Bay St. Louis school system on a B certificate, because he wasn't interested enough in his own personal education to keep his A license renewed! (His superiors got the blame for that - they were supposed to tell him!) Yet THIS man suddenly becomes intensely interested in Mississippi school law. REALLY, now I think the other face of the coin should be examined. Instead of people electing Mr. Ladner to this office, many were voting AGAINST his OPPONENT IN THE SECOND PRIMARY. I am further impressed that Mr. Ladner, who was consistently by-passed for administrative posts during his tenure in the county system should miraculously become an efficient and capable administrator in the county system (along with the guiding light of Mr. Ortle, of course) in just a short one and one-half years. Now, THAT'S PROGRESS!

One of the portable classrooms which was moved into use on the HNC campus during the early spring of last year looks like a sieve whenever it rains. The teachers have had to "ball out" each morning following inclement weather of the night before. Floors, ceiling, desks, tables, materials, books, etc. are gradually becoming more damaged. Mr. Clapp wrote many letters and made innumerable calls to the sellers without receiving any satisfaction. Finally the school board agreed to withhold payment of a large portion of the money due in an effort to force the seller into making the repairs. Without using forethought, BUT USING SOME OF THE "ADEQUATE FUNDS ON HAND FOR THE SUCCESSFUL OPERATION OF OUR SCHOOL," Mr. Ladner and his advisor, Mr. Ortle, paid off all but $500.00 of the debt. Result: seller takes a smaller profit and makes NO repairs; some teacher faces an intolerable position next fall! About a year later a feeble attempt at legally correcting this wading pool in trailer #1 is in the process. This is a shameful waste of taxpayer monies! One teacher remarked that the picture would be changed if any of the men involved had to teach twenty-eight first graders in a room with wet desks, wet floors, wet books, dripping ceilings that spatter into a metal waste basket, etc. I agreed. THIS is an example of "considering our children first?" Come, now, Mr. Ortle.

MRS. DOROTHY HARMON
WILLIE HARMON

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

The word I is disgusted and not "dejected and frustrated" as Mr. Ortle mentioned in his recent letter to the editor.

Mr. Ortle, as you well know, in the regular course of administrative procedure, I was recommended back at Hancock North Central for the 1969-70 school term by the man best qualified to judge my performance, Mr. Robert Clapp. Mr. Eugene Ladner did not see fit to pass this recommendation on to the board of education and this is his option. One of Mr. Ladner's campaign promises to some members of the group who now sign themselves as the committee for better schools was that he would get rid of me (enter the game you know so well, politics). When Mr. Ladner failed to recommend me to the board, I immediately sought and obtained a position in another school system (enter profession ethics - another term you wouldn't understand.) The two men not recommended by Mr. Clapp (it is now three from what I understand), D. J. Martin, Roland Ladner, and Dempsey Bounds, sought and obtained political alliance with your two-bit political group. Through this means, all three of these men, fired from their job by Mr. Clapp, were recently recommended by the interim (temporary) principal of dubious quality and integrity, Mr. Austin Kirkland.

Mr. Ortle, you state in your letter to the editor and I quote "that this is not a weak deal." Four board members had already agreed (cloakroom caucus perhaps) on the reappointment of Mr. Martin and Coach Ladner. If we had waited longer and if Mr. Clapp should be reinstated, he would not recommend these gentlemen. For shame, Mr. Ortle, only a politically-minded person such as yourself could go in the pro-spiritual back door to circumvent Mr. Clapp's legal authority, and convince yourself and try to convince an all too well knowing public that you went in the front door. For shame, Mr. Ortle. This is known as political conniving, one of your strong points.

Mr. Ortle, I would like to make mention of one other important fact that you omitted from your letter to the editor and from your paid political advertisement. You didn't mention the politically-inspired compromise offered Mr. Clapp through "Little Red" Davis and yourself. In this compromise, Mr. Eugene Ladner agreed to accept me back as a classroom teacher and I move off the campus at a reduction in salary of $3200.00. Mr. Ladner would also drop all of his trumped up charges against Mr. Clapp. In return for these acts of benevolence, Mr. Clapp would recommend D. J. Martin and Roland Ladner for the 1969-70 school term. Mr. Clapp wisely told you and your political group what to do with your "slap in the face" error.

In continuance, several days later, you yourself, Mr. Ortle, completed the compromise offer when you told me that you would arrange for the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to make up the $3800.00 difference in my salary. I turned

From Washington

By Drew Pearson

We have reported previously that the smell of recession is in the air. There is even worried talk in top business circles of a depression.

These facts continue ominous. The cost of living continues to soar. Prices shot up at the rate of 7.2 per cent in June - exactly double the 3.6 per cent rate in May. Yet, at the same time, stock prices were diving to new lows. The loss in stock values in the past several months has passed $70 billion. Corporate earnings also are tapering off. The big four automakers - General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors - all have reported lower earnings. At least three steel companies - Armco, Inland and Wheeling-Pittsburgh - also are earning less.

Some companies have already started to cut back and to lay off workers. At the same time that the first men soared to the moon, ironically, the companies that sent them there were compelled to fire skilled workers. Many of the 56 aerospace companies in Florida have sent out lack-of-work notices. Employment on the Apollo program has dropped from 28,000 to 23,500 in the past nine months. Another 4,500 are expected to be dropped during the next year.

In most industries wages are continuing to rise, but the purchasing power of wage-earners is declining. The average worker with three dependents gets 38 cents less in goods and services for his weekly wage today than he did a year ago. He not only is paying more for what he buys but for the money he borrows. The interest rates on bank loans have skyrocketed to record highs. As prices go up and higher interest adds to the cost of installment buying, consumers will have to tighten their belts - there'll be fewer purchases of homes and automobiles and color TVs or any other item bought on time payments.

Despite all the economic hurricane signals now flying, the administration had done little to cope with the danger of disaster except ask continuation of the income tax surtax. When Secretary of the Treasury Kennedy was asked at a private luncheon about the high wages of building workers in New York, he replied, "The construction companies don't have to hire them."

It was a glib answer, but without workers there would be no construction. However, Secretary Kennedy has gone further than any other Cabinet member in recognizing that something drastic must be done. He has said several times that wage and price controls may be necessary. The President Nixon has been so "fired at Kennedy" that this political other down because I didn't think the taxpayers of Hancock County could afford to pay this amount of money to a classroom teacher. Mr. Ortle, who would you know on the Board of Supervisors who could arrange for this type of payment anyway?

FACE FLIES

Another trouble North has reached is the face fly pest of cattle. The pest is larger than the house fly and it is more annoying. Face flies feed around the eyes, when they fly in the numbers of thousands, cattle will often blink and bunch up in the shade with their heads down. Infestations of face flies reduce weight and milk production, and that they may spread.

Face flies are a nuisance. They feed around the eyes, when they fly in the numbers of thousands, cattle will often blink and bunch up in the shade with their heads down. Infestations of face flies reduce weight and milk production, and that they may spread.

There is a control for face flies and it is called ivermectin. It is a powerful insecticide that kills the flies. It is used by spraying the cattle with a solution of ivermectin.

LIME
Lack of lime in the soil is a problem for many farmers. It is a common problem in the South. Lime is needed to make the soil more fertile. It is used by spreading lime on the soil.

DIE HARD DANCE
The Franks family sponsor a "die hard" dance every year. It is a popular event in the community. It is held at the Franks home.

OIL SHOWDOWN
The oil industry is in a showdown with the House Ways and Means Committee. The committee is considering a bill that would increase the tax on oil.

For years, the oil industry has been a powerful force in the House. It has been able to block any bill that would increase the tax on oil. The committee is now trying to pass the bill.

Now the oil industry is counting upon Senator Chairman Russell to champion in the Senate the bill. The bill is now in the Senate. It is a very important bill. It will affect the oil industry.

Suspects in Church

Breakins Apprehended

After investigations by Sherriff Fred Curet, Deputies Al Lumpkin and Lee Klein, aided by Travis Lott of the Highway Patrol of several break-ins at the Clermont Harbor Catholic Church four youths were apprehended.

The youths were reported to have taken some church vessels and had committed acts of vandalism. All but one of the vessels were recovered. The youngsters were turned over to their parents.

Investigations are now being made at other churches in the area which have been visited by vandals.

Three Youths Placed On Probation

After a series of burglaries over a two week period in and around Bay St. Louis, three youths were apprehended by the Sheriff's Department last week and charged with theft, breaking and entering.

"Call Guide"
Now To CoastThe new book, with the new look, is out! It's South Central Bell's 1969 telephone directory for VanCleave, Ocean Springs, Biloxi, Gulfport, Lyman, Pass
Christian, Standard, Bay St.
Louis and Pearlport and it contains a new section - "Call Guide."It's the first page in the directory and, according to the telephone company, contains answers to nearly all telephoning questions. On the reverse, space is provided for recording frequently called numbers and numbers for brand new phones not listed in the directory. The purpose of Call Guide is just that - to guide telephone calls quickly, easily and surely to the person being called.Also effective with delivery of the new directory, a new service-Directory Assistance-replaces the familiar "Information Service." Its specific purpose: to help telephone customers with telephone numbers not listed in their directory.Both items are designed to reduce double dialing - or making two calls when one will do.
According to the telephone company, it's much faster to call a person by finding their number in the directory... even faster when calling from a list of frequently called numbers.Delivery of the new telephone directory is scheduled for completion August 1,
1969.Rescue Operations
Near Lake BorgneCommander Ira A. Hodges, USCG Auxiliary Flotilla 35 of Pearlport, was notified Wednesday, July 23rd, by the Mississippi Coast Guard, that a 26 foot cabin cruiser, "Judge," was in trouble at East Pearl River near Lake Borgne.The rescue vessel,
"Phyllis," located the "Judge," and found she was in shallow water near the bank.First attempts to float a tow line to the distressed vessel was hampered by winds and choppy water. It was 6 o'clock before the 225 foot tow line was secured and the "Judge" pulled to deep water and safety. The vessel was then taken to Kelly's Place on Mulatto Bayou.Aboard the "Judge" were Mr. and Mrs. K. A. McNair of Hattiesburg, Miss., Mrs. Mc-Nair (Mr. McNair's mother), and Mr. and Mrs. August King of Cleveland."Do not hesitate to call the Coast Guard if you are in trouble, for they will make every attempt to help you," emphasized Hodges.

by Noville R. Jacob
Public Relations Officer
Hancock County
Port and Harbor Commission

HANCOCK COUNTY REPORTS

An American flag flies proudly outside the Hancock County senior citizens' home, back of the hospital, and it is the duty of one resident to hoist colors each morning and stow away each evening. He is happy with his duty and who betide anybody who tries to belittle the colors.

His pride in country is reflected in all the faces of the 14 other guests who are proud also to be on their own, living out their lives in quiet comfort, not burdening their families or friends.

The senior citizens in the county old folks' home share another pride. It is the pride of enjoying simple things, like ice cream and cake when one has a birthday, or a special warm weather treat like a popsicle.

All residents of the home are free to come and go as they wish. All welcome the security and order of personal independence.

Inspected three times a year by the grand jury, the facility is financed out of county funds. The fund provides all the wants of guests, including clothing, medicine, tobacco, and the like, and pays the difference between Medicare and final bills in the case of serious illness. In return the guests turn over his social Security check to the county. If he is receiving one, and agrees to the simple living rules.

To qualify for entrance a prospective guest must appear before the county board of supervisors and declare he is in need. Presently the home has 15 guests living in dormitory style bedrooms with usage of two porches, with rockers, 5 bathrooms, and day sitting and dining spaces. When full the facility can accommodate 25 guests.

Self described as "chief cook and bottle washer," Mrs. Carl Fricke, manager of the establishment, assisted Mrs. Mary Fricke. The manager was appointed in 1956 right after the retirement of Mrs. John Rutherford, and simply does the work.

"I feel I am doing something worthwhile and at the same time helping somebody else," Mrs. Fricke said Monday.

After looking around the home one gets an idea of what she means.

Apart from being sparklingly clean, all rooms are decorated with real and artificial flowers, bird portraits and other displays, all given form by Mrs. Fricke's creative hand and love, not to mention money.

The manager thinks eating is her guest's favorite pastime with television viewing coming in a close second.

Favorite dishes are fried chicken, ice cream, turkey, a Southern favorite-red beans and rice, corn flakes, and bacon and eggs.

Top tv billing goes to soap opera, with men spending good deal of time watching ball games each weekend.

The senior citizens follow a daily routine designed to keep them interested but not overworked. Breakfast is served from 7 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., lunch at 11:30 a.m., (used to be noon but a "hot" soap opera tv program conflicted so they upped the time 30 mins., afternoon coffee around 3 p.m., and supper at 5 p.m. Most residents prefer to go to bed around 8 o'clock, although a couple stayed up all night recently to watch the first moon landing. They also like to watch religious programs and argue with the "weather man".

In the morning and evening the guests read the daily newspapers and stroll around the grounds. Most nap in the afternoons, right after lunch, and engage in debate over some timely subject before supper.

There are variations.

Once a month Catholic mass is celebrated and the Rosary is said every Tuesday. The Waveland Baptists conduct a church service, also on a monthly basis, when hymns are sung and the bible read, following which refreshments are served. Three times a week, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, a representative of the Church of God plays the piano and all sing hymns. Another weekly visitor is a local lady who brings cookies and candies, and stays to chat.

At Christmas the Boy and Girl Scouts, church groups, and other organizations come to visit and bring gifts. Some groups also visit at Easter and Thanksgiving.

In this regard, visiting by groups, Mrs. Fricke welcomes all efforts directed towards helping her guests but asks an advance phone call be given to avoid conflict of interests.

Mrs. Fricke also handles the garden, and plants all flowers, shrubs, and trees, although she is assisted here by her husband, Carl Fricke. A recent gesture by Mr. Fricke served to bring home to the guests that they still live on the coast. He went out and caught a mess of fish and everybody enjoyed a huge fish fry.

Sometimes relatives come to call but no regular visiting hours have been established. "Loved ones are welcome anytime during the day," Mrs. Fricke said.

The manager, who also washes the guests' clothes in separate batches, said the county maintains the building and is "very good" about furnishing needed items.

By the way, as we were leaving after getting the information for this piece we ran into BoBo Carver. BoBo said he is doing fine and feeling much better. Somehow when talking to BoBo we felt the feeling of genuine concern that must be a part of the structure's operation.

Inquiries to this column are welcome and should be addressed to Noville R. Jacob, public relations, Port and Harbor Commission, P.O. Box 69, Bay St. Louis, Miss. 39520.

The supervisor's letters were addressed to Bob W. Pittman, general manager of the MEC, John Daniels, special committee on tourism of the MEC, Brad Dye Jr., director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, and Gov. John Bell Williams.

FAA Money Used In Airport Construction

As $312,844.62 worth of Federal Aviation Agency money has gone into construction of the new airport, the United States Air Force has the right to utilize the field for military flying purposes.

With the FAA fund grant agreement specifying that military aviation can utilize any field built with their participating funds, most of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commissioners on Thursday felt that the only thing they could do was try to negotiate for the best possible agreement with Air Training Command.

In other airport matters commissioners decided to re-advertise their water well, separating the actual well work from the water and sewer distribution system. Work will be in accordance with original specifications.

Vocational Rehabilitation Increased In Mississippi

A total of 3062 Mississippians were successfully rehabilitated during the past fiscal year, July 1, 1968-June 30, 1969, according to the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Department of Education. The 3062 persons rehabilitated and placed in gainful employment represent an increase of 10 per cent over fiscal 1968, when 2802 persons were rehabilitated, Travis McCharen, director, said.

A total of 16,720 persons received one or more services through the Division program. This is an increase of 19 per cent over fiscal 1968. Services provided include: counseling, evaluation, physical restoration, job training, and placement, and follow-up (on-the-job) counseling. McCharen said the Division was "gratified that we have been able to serve substantially more disabled persons last year than during the preceding year."

"However," he continued, "a statewide study has revealed that between 80,000 and 70,000 Mississippians are in need of vocational rehabilitation."

"As long as this condition exists, we can have only limited satisfaction in our current gains," McCharen said.

Eligible for rehabilitation services are Mississippians of working age who have a substantial job handicap caused by a physical, mental, or emotional disability and who apparently can hold a job after receiving rehabilitation services.

LIKE MOST COAST residents we've become pretty much inured to mosquito bites and rarely complain when the shrilly buzzing insects arrive in moderate numbers. The insupportable pests seem to prefer human blood and when their population compares with that of humans at a ratio of approximately a dozen or so to one, they usually swarm around newcomers and tourists leaving the rest of us relatively unbothered. The crop of summer 1969 shows no such selectivity, probably due to their vast numbers. When one ventures out-of-doors under normal conditions a few well timed swats and a couple of squirts of repellent are all that's needed to discourage the winged attackers. Now, we don't waste time swatting, we just scrape them off by the thousands.

HERETOFORE, WE WOULD have sent out an urgent SOS to the Mosquito Control Commission, or resorted to the time honored practice of casting the blame upon breeding spots in the Louisiana marshes. Unfortunately commission officials are struggling desperately, but fighting a losing battle, hampered by an insufficient budget, and even one small can half-filled with stagnant water can serve as a perfect incubator for hundreds of blood-thirsty mosquitoes. So guess there's not much that can be done at the moment except to continue to scratch and console ourselves with the thought of coming to later we may be vacationing on the moon, which doesn't promise to offer much in the way of scenery, but appears to be completely bugless.

FREQUENT FOGGING helped keep St. Clare's Church grounds relatively free of the menacing hordes and fairgoers turned out in droves for the three day event. Friday night's fish fry was as always, delicious. Plates were heaped with ample portions of fresh fish, potato salad and garlic bread and fat oysters on the half-shell were opened on the scene by Ray and other members of the Kidd family. Just a few of the many spotted in the crowd included Bobbie (Mrs. Henry) Maggio, Dee and Buddy Dodson, Lois and Carlos Lozano, Margie and Mac McCutcheon, the Otto Sulzers, Edie and Bill Harris and daughter Jeannie. Ross and John Rutherford and family, Sterling Balaski, Phil and Jimmy Lagasse, Helen and Charles White, Lottie and Garfield Ladner, Ada Edie, Kitty and Clio Molere, Georgene and Bob Torgersen, Gerry and Charles Johnson, a swaid Villere, Margie and Charlie Powers, Nell and Eddie Bourgeois and son Arzie, Gladys and Harry O'Neill and many many others too numerous to mention.

RETURNED EUROPEAN travelers Elsie Leveaux and Anne Rollins hosted a party for the "birthday group" at Elsie's home last Tuesday afternoon.

JEANNE MRS. JIMMY AUSTIN tossed a surprise party honoring her father Melvin McCordle last Saturday night. The piece de resistance was a huge birthday cake fashioned by Lez Favre in the shape of a certain beer truck which Melvin drives daily. Even the candles were placed atop a can from the little brewery famed for quality if not for size. Melvin so enjoyed the occasion that he invited a large group of friends to dine with him and wife Myrtis the following day and Bec Ladner obligingly helped prepare a sumptuous meal for the impromptu gathering.

JUNE AND LOU WILLIAMS have returned home from their vacation trip to Madeira Beach, Fla. where they were guests of Lou's sister Mrs. George Sikes and Mr. Sikes. They were accompanied by Georgene and Joe Atcheson, cousins from Mullins, S. C.

DAN (DR. M.D.) HORNE plans to be one up on bearded Loyola students when classes resume in September - he's grown a dashing mustache. He, Mrs. Horne, son, Jack who recently returned from Vietnam, his pretty wife Judy and their sons Jack and Michael, all dined at Beverly's Sunday night.

OMEGA AND HASWELL Swasey also dined at the same restaurant on the same night. They were preparing to return to Jackson after vacationing for two weeks in their Hillcrest Avenue summer home.

GEORGE GOODWIN, SR. has departed for his Seattle, Wash. home after spending a couple of weeks with son George, Jr. and family.

Sullivan, Lashley Wedding Solemnized

St. Clare's Catholic Church, Waveland, was the setting for the wedding Sunday afternoon, July 27, of Miss Rena Lashley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lashley of Waveland, and Rodney Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Sullivan of Bay St. Louis.

Rev. William Kennedy performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin sheath fashioned with a cage dress of net woven with an all over pattern of daisies. Her four-tiered veil of illusion was attached to a white satin ring embellished with seed and tear drop pearls and she carried a cascade of white daisies.

Miss Judy Rannels, cousin of the bridegroom, Jackson, Miss., served as maid of honor and Miss Benita Gonzales, Vicksburg, Miss., cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore pastel yellow gowns with matching veils held by bows and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Mr. Sullivan was his son's best man and Curtis Powell and Danny Powell, of Mt. Olive, Miss., were groomsmen. Kenny Lashley and Harry Cagle, Waveland, were ushers.

A reception followed at St. Clare's Parish Hall.

The bride's table, decorated with white and yellow daisies, was centered with a three-tiered cake accented in white daisies with yellow asters. A miniature bride and groom decorated the top tier.

Mrs. Edmee Cagle and Mrs. Felicia Ganser, grandmother of the bride, presided at the cake table and Mrs. Robert Cagle kept the bride's register. Misses Veronica Ganser and Jeanne Gianelloni served as tea girls.

For their wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride chose an aqua knit dress, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple are making their home in Memphis, Tenn., where Mr. Sullivan, who is in the U.S. Navy, will attend Naval Aviation School for the next few months.

Rusty Adam Celebrates First Year

A NUMBER OF physical fitness minded residents have taken up bicycle riding. Among these are Emily (Mrs. Bunk) Gardner, Lou Mrs. John Wilkerson, Beulah Ladner and Helene and Lambert Boyd.

SPEAKING OF Lamberts, Lambert Bortages is recuperating from his fourth, and he hopes, last operation in just about as many months. He was released from Hancock General on Friday.

ONE OF THE most appreciated gifts we've received in many a year is the Apollo Moon-shot charm bracelet which arrived via the U.S. mail last week. The return address was General Electric Company, Communications and Public Affairs, Mississippi Test Support Department, and as we would feel a bit odd beginning a letter "Dear General Electric, etc. we'll take this means of expressing our sincere gratitude.

A SPECIAL get well wish is on the way to Cecile Turcotte, Dick, as she is better known to close friends, had major surgery.

I have wanted a "Vet" for a long time and after considerable planning with my salesman John Gallagher of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet in Bay St. Louis I ordered. I had John order a Corvette for me with just the right equipment and color to please me. Then came the waiting period - but it was worth waiting for. I want to emphasize the cooperation I got from all the personnel at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. If you're in the market for a new car, I recommend that you visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for salesman John Gallagher.

How much heat can a heat pump pump if a heat pump can pump heat?

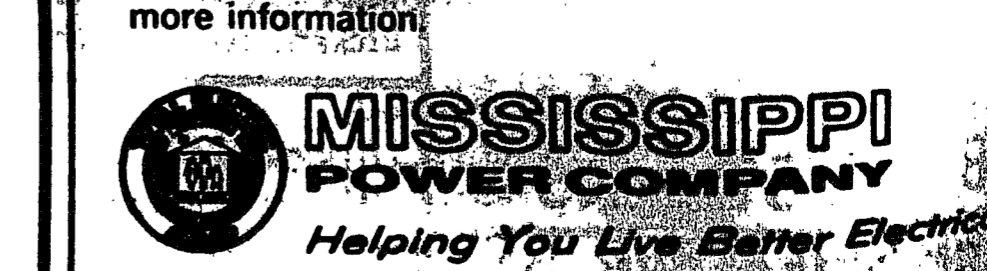

ANSWER: Enough to keep you very comfortable. A heat pump is the simplest, yet the most economical way to get year-round temperature and comfort control in your home.

A heat pump works like a two-way refrigerator. In the summer it picks up the heat inside your home and pumps it outside — just like a refrigerator pulls the heat from its own interior and transfers it outside.

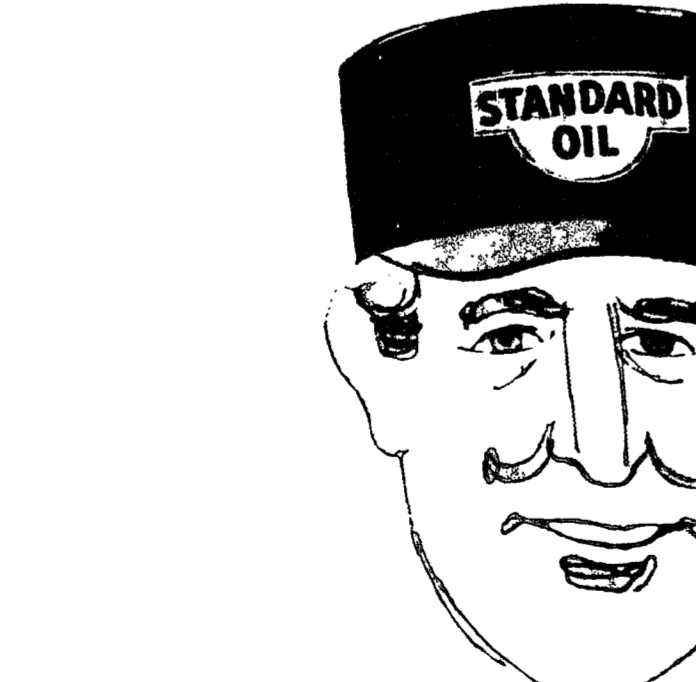

In the winter the system reverses itself and pumps outdoor heat indoors. (And there is heat out there, even when the temperature drops below freezing!)

For year-long home comfort, heat pumps are about the simplest things going — because they use one single system which works in either direction.

If you're building a new home, or thinking about replacing an old, inefficient heating system, consider the heat pump. It's a step in the comfort direction. If you're interested, call Mississippi Power Company for more information.

HERB BARON DELIVERS RED AND WHITE CHEVY PICK-UP TO DONNIE PULLMAN AND MR. GEORGE PULLMAN, DONNIE PICKED OUT THE COLORS FROM LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET LOT.

We'd been thinking about a new pick-up and called Herb Baron, a salesman at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet, he promised us a good deal. We had been reading about the good deals given and also were told by good friends about their good deals. My little boy Donnie went with us to Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and when he saw the red and white pick-up he had a fit, and said that was the pick-up he wanted us to buy. Herb took real good care of us and we know he'll do the same for anyone interested in cars or trucks. Remember the Lamar-Lane motto: "The only deals we miss are the ones we don't know about."

gery last week and we're hoping that she'll soon feel well enough to resume writing her very popular Echo column, Wave-land Notes.

FONNIE FAYRE discovered a most interesting sort of picture puzzle which actually proves whether or not one is truly color blind. Those with normal vision see one set of animals, others, an entirely different species.

BOBBIE AND VERNON McCullough and family have returned home after spending a week in Alice, Tex.

A WELCOME addition to the Bay-Waveland Duplicate Bridge Club at Monday night's session was Nelsie Ogden of San Antonio, Tex.

GEORGE GEORGI was given a series of tests at Ochsner on an out-patient basis on Friday. He and Bea most reluctantly parted with Tiger's five kittens offered with the small felines as prizes at St. Clare's Fair. Shortly after they had all been given away, Bea and George and Tiger were audibly lamenting their departure.

THE FAIR report will appear in installments due to the fact that the column is so written. Everyone in the huge Saturday night crowd on St. Clare's Church grounds appeared to be having so much fun that no one seemed to mind being jostled in the mob. Some of the booths were: Ann and Henry Deville, Bobbie and Maxie Treilles, Lolly Backlund, her sister Maida and Micki Breaux, Dottie Mocklin, Libby Ferry, Annabelle Fayard, Claire Bourgeois, Mrs. Roland Rossingol, One Costella, Gertrude Sauer, Matt Ballatin, Henry Maggio, Mrs. E. Canady, Mela Dee and Ed Cunningham, Manne and Max Giannelloni, Merlin Markel, Lloyd Bourgeois, Linda and Tommy Kidd, Louise Markey, Judy and Ed Lyons, Sis Means, Sterling Backlaski, John Auderer, etc. etc.

Just a few fun seekers included Elaine and Ray Bourgeois, Elaine and Roy Walters, Morris and Johnny Felder, Gesina and Armand Serpas, Claire and A.J. Frey, Lena Graves and visiting grandchildren Paul and Kathleen O'Donnell. Also, Jostie and Clarence Herbig, the Henry Mestayers, Gloria and Roy Berggren, Beulah and Sidney Bourgeois, Dixie Ogden, Jeanne and Fred Lister and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Figeron of Lafayette, La. Incidentally, Mrs. Figeron is state president of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary and Eddie is a past DAV commander. And, Fran and Urban Stork, Helen and Alfred Serio, Jane and Bobby Benvenuti, Kate and Bill Steele, Doris McInnis, Doc Bosch, Margie and Weldon De Hart and daughter Margie, Marion and Eddie Fayard, Lucille Fayard, Rose and Duda Guenard, Louise and Joe Wymer, Kiki and Eddie Carrere, Molly Casey, Jeannie Robin, Lorraine and Ray Kidd, Mr. George Gandy, Ann and Bobby Cure, Sylvia and John Yost, Isobel and Mel Villere in fact, come to think of it, it would have been easier to list the names of those who weren't there!

CHRISTINE SARDI, nee Sauer, and husband Winfield are anticipating the arrival of their first heir or heiress in about three months.

THE BALLATINS, Ruth and Matt, drove to Gulf Breeze, Fla. last weekend to visit former Wavelanders Kate and Roy Saux. Kate and Roy celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary while Ruth and Matt were their guests.

WARRANT OFFICER, Daniel Seeley has been spending a 30-day leave with his parents, the Clay Seeleys, Daniel received his Air Force helicopter pilot wings at Ft. Rucker, Ala. last month and is due to leave for Vietnam on or about August 18. Daniel is also a nephew of Bernice Mrs. Rocky Wyatt.

LUCILLE BISHOP, who has been somewhat under the weather, is now on the mend. She weekendened in her Washington Street home.

MR. H. B. SULZER will entertain 38 fellow members of the A-1 society at her parents' home, 1100 Avenue home next weekend.

THE HILL FOUNTAINS left New Orleans International Airport Sunday afternoon enroute to Mexico City where they will spend two weeks as guests of Pedro's brother and family.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY greetings go to Florence (Mrs. James) Hedges, who will cut her cake on August 10th, and to Barbara Hodge who will celebrate at her Lamar Avenue home on August 11th.

SERGEANT FIRST CLASS Robert Miller of the famed Green Berets, his wife Fay and children: Emily Diane, Danny Earl, Karen Elizabeth, Mildred Marie and Roberta Rochell are guests at the Old Spanish Trail home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valerie Spiers. Robert is soon due to leave for Vietnam and the children will make their home in Cedar Point during his absence.

DAVID HUBBARD is another taking to the air for vacation transportation. He boarded a Minneapolis bound jet on Wednesday.

NORMA AND JOHN Dougher traveled sans trailer for their Washington, D. C. vacation. Of course they were accompanied by Chris, John and Mugs.

THE BEST VACATION yet was the way Natalie Lassere and sons John and Michael describe their trip to the Smokey Mountains and Williamsburg, Va. They stayed in a lodge in the Smokies and enjoyed horseback riding through winding trails and tried their hands at a bit of mountain climbing. When in Williamsburg, the Lasseres toured the historic town viewing every landmark. Upon their return, they had as weekend guests Natalie's sister Mrs. William Billeaux and children Mark and Bill of New Orleans, and her mother Mrs. Lucius Landreaneau of Ville Platte, La.

WORKMEN ARE adding the finishing touches to the M.J. De Rochas gracious new Nicholson Avenue home.

HAZEL AND CLAUDE Tracey took off on another jaunt last week, their destination Houston, Tex.

Attend Conference

Laurie Ann Uram of Bay St. Louis, and Beth Ann Mestayer of Waveland were among some 43 students participating in the Pre-College Conference at the University of Mississippi held during the past week.

The Ole Miss Pre-College Conference program is designed to give students a preview of life at Ole Miss and to facilitate the transition of high school and junior college students to life at the University.

During their visit to the Ole Miss campus the pre-college students receive individual counseling on courses of study and meet with University officials and student leaders.

ANIMAL NOTES - Little Cindy Peterson asks that we thank Gladys Johnson for rescuing her missing kitten from the not so gentle hands of a group of young boys. Gladys had just finished reading about the lost feline in last Thursday's Echo when she spied the little animal, took it away from the kids who had apparently not been taught much about kindness to animals, and returned the lost one to the grateful young mistress.

WE ALSO have two kittens up for adoption. If interested please call Miss Patsy Knight at 467-9846.

FISHING NOTES - Fred Bourgeois still holds his own in the annals of famous local fishermen. He caught some beautiful specs Saturday morning.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - The August moon almost equalling the sun in flaming brilliance as it rises seemingly nearer the earth each evening. A lone shrimp gracefully tossing his webbed net with ease gained only by long experience; the slightly harassed crowd hastening to the final mass each Sunday afternoon and the resonant chiming of the tower clock a bit belatedly tolling the time of day and night.

MR. AND MRS. CARVER
Nora Walnwright, Mrs. Eliza Barletter; nephew, Donald Jacobs and family; nieces, Mrs. Betty Tanguis, Mrs. Florence Ladner, Mrs. Nora Spikes, Mrs. Mary Favre, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barezal and family; sister-in-law, Mrs. Maggie Carver.

Also attending were friends of the family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cook, Curtis Craft and Mrs. Florence Dorman.

Mrs. Carver's sister, Mrs. M. S. Jacobs and brother, John Shubert were attendants for the couple when they were married in 1919.

The kids in the grandstand are yelling, "Strike him out!" and our young pitcher is going to do exactly that. This is his day for a shut-out game... his day to win.

He's feeling pretty good about it, and who's to blame him? But what if things had gone the other way? What if some other boy had been warming up in the bullpen, about to have taken his place? But he is a well-balanced youngster, and he would have taken that in stride, too.

He has learned about being a good sport, about regard for his fellow men, and about many other equally important things in Church. For, like thousands of other American youngsters, the Church already plays an important part in his life. That is one reason why his parents have faith in the fact that he will grow up to be a pretty fine man.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

We are now in August and the last two months of summer are here. As stated before soft crabbing and floundering still goes on although they are not as plentiful as in the beginning of summer. A few soft crabs are being caught and spearing flounders is pretty good. Flounders are speared at certain places until January.

In Campbell's Bayou where it goes into Pearl River the best floundering is in November, December and January. The banks of the bayou has a drop off and flounders are speared on the shoulders. Good catches are made but it is rather cold and rough at times. Most of the flounders are of large size. One can fish for red fish and speckles during the day and flounder at night. Green trout are also caught in Campbell's Bayou at this time of the year by casting with under water baits and trawling. Boats can be obtained from La France's Camp.

Believe it or not some of our best catches of green trout (bass) are made in the winter time. Use underwater baits for best results.

Hard crabs are giving at their best right now. They are being caught most anywhere. A little deeper water is best for the big ones.

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission today adopted recommendations for the 1969-70 waterfowl hunting seasons for the Mississippi Flyway. These recommendations, formulated at its regular monthly public meeting in New Orleans, will be forwarded directly to the Interior Department's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The commission recommended a duck hunting season of no less than 45 full days, with a bag limit of six ducks and a possession limit of 12, conceding restrictions on mallards, wood ducks, canvasbacks and red heads as deemed necessary by the federal bureau.

The commission recommended that the coot season run concurrent with the duck season and that the daily bag limit be 10, with a possession limit of 20.

Shrimp season as usual is on the wane, however, some shrimp are still being caught.

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission opened a small area to shrimp fishing located just north of the Bird Island-Breton Island line on Monday, Aug. 4. The area was opened at the regular commission meeting Tuesday. It will remain open until the regular fall season opens August 18.

Roy Baxter, Jr., marina operator at Pearlington, has been elected chairman of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former chairman D. (Pat) Conner after his election as Mayor of Ocean Springs. Baxter had served as vice-chairman since January 1969. Dayton Robinson of Pass Christian will succeed Baxter as vice-chairman. Baxter is a good man for the job.

John Scalfido is visiting his daughter up north. The fish are having a rest while John is not here.

It's not the fish that are jerks. It's the fishermen on the end of the rod that are waiting for a jerk.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Archlen of Garden Isles are ardent fishermen. They enjoy fishing and crabbing in their back yard. Mrs. Archlen caught a nice flounder in a crab net.

A long needed marina is being built by Rudy Jung at Henderson Point. The new marina will be known as the Bayview Marina and will have stalls to accommodate 40 boats with an electric hoist, selling gas, ice, beverages, etc., and other necessities for fishermen. Mr. and Mrs. Jung will live on the premises. Welcome to our midst, folks. August Rautot is the contractor.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

Joe Taconi another old-time fisherman has done his share of fishing and caught plenty of the finny tribe. Joe claims that when they built the new railroad bridge they did away with his fishing. The old railroad bridge was his stomping ground.

Orleans, does a lot of fishing hereabouts. George knows his stuff when it comes to fishing. He brings home plenty fish, too.

Billy Bourgeois says he is laying off fishing for awhile. Getting to be work, he claims.

Connie Peterson says he is going fishing in a big way. Hopes it's not all talk. I'm ready Connie.

John Genin another one who talks a good game when it comes to fishing. Better get on the ball, John, the fish are biting.

Red Reinike says, "Kantcha Ketchum" bigger. We do Red, sometimes.

One of our buddies says: Once a man learns to listen he and his wife can remain on speaking terms indefinitely. It applies to fishing too.

Archie Paul spent the weekend at Leverette Smith's camp at Mulatto Bayou. Archie does a lot of fishing and hunting. He hails from Baton Rouge where he is with the Recreational Department.

Forest Lafontaine says he has quit commercial fishing, which he did for many years. He now does a little shrimp and fishing. Forest is another of us old-timers.

Was a pleasure to meet Bob Seely. Bob is a former champion wrestler and the brother of Clayton Seely, local resident. He has his own boat and uses it to advantage. Mrs. Seely is also a fisherman and loves to fish and crab. Will be seeing you Bob.

Clayton Seely says he don't fish much but he flounders over the bar at Sam Bonigno's. We'll make a fisherman of you yet buddy.

Joe Collier had quite an experience lately. He went out to the marsh, caught 4 big speckles which he hung on a stringer and put them overboard. A shark hit the fish and they were gone except a head which was left on the string. Moral—put your fish in an ice box sharks can't get into it. He said it was an off day. He hooked a Spanish Mackerel. Had it half way to the boat and his pole broke. Good

Waterfowl Flyway Council To Meet

The annual meeting of the Mississippi Waterfowl Flyway Council will be held on the Mississippi Gulf Coast at Biloxi, August 8-9. It has been announced by Billy Joe Cross, the executive director of the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission and the 1969 president of the Flyway Council.

The Flyway Council is composed of 13 member states and three Canadian provinces and is used by millions of migrating ducks and geese each fall and winter.

Attending the meeting, being hosted by the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission for the first time, will be approximately 300 state and federal game officials, waterfowl biologists, technicians and Ducks Unlimited representatives.

The purpose of the meeting is for each representative to hear the latest information regarding waterfowl conditions and fall flight prospects and then make recommendations on season length and bag limit.

Mike Meyers Signs With Louisiana Tech

Louisiana Tech, with a rich tradition in the air game, has signed another outstanding high school end to a grant-in-aid, head coach Maxie Lambright has announced.

Mike Meyers of St. Stanislaus Prep School in Bay St. Louis, Miss., is the latest Bulldog recruit.

Mike stands 6-0 and weighs 195 pounds. He was also a standout in track, winning the state shot put with a heave of 54 feet.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Meyers and plans to major in pre-med.

"We are extremely happy to have a person of Mike's talents come to Louisiana Tech," said Coach Lambright. "We are looking forward to working with Mike and feel he will make a valuable contribution to our athletic program and to our school."

bye mackerel. My mother told me there would be days like that.

Red Reinike had a few guests over for a fish fry Sunday night. Borrowed a few fish from friends. What's the matter, Red, Kantcha Ketchum?

Understand Donald C. Long loves his dove hunting. There should be some good hunts when the season opens on Sept. 13. Hope there will be plenty doves for all.
